WELTY IMPEACHES
JUDGE LANDIS IN SPEECH IN HOUSENo Formal Charges Filed
Other Than Those Made
In Speech.Kicks On Judge's Acceptance of Baseball Job and $42,500 Salary.

Washington, Feb. 14.—Federal Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis of Chicago was impeached in the house of representatives today by Representative Welty, Democrat, Ohio, who charged him with "high crimes and misdemeanors" in connection with his acceptance of the position of "supreme arbiter of baseball" at a salary of $42,500 a year.

Should the house decide to institute proceedings against Judge Landis on the basis of Mr. Welty's charges, a formal trial before the bar of the house would be held and a decision rendered. Mr. Welty did not introduce a resolution proposing impeachment, as is the usual procedure in such matters. Instead he arose to "a question of high and personal privilege," and announced that he "impeached" the judge.

Welty refused to grant a request of Senator Dial of South Carolina that he include in his proposed impeachment proceedings against Federal Judge Landis the statement attributed to the judge that officials of an Ottawa (Ill.) bank were responsible for an embezzlement by a clerk of the bank because they paid the clerk only $80 a month.

BALL PLAYERS
DENY CHARGES

Petitions Filed Asking For Particulars of Indictment and Deny Admitting Participation in Alleged Game Throwing.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Formal repudiation of alleged grand jury confessions of crooked baseball playing were filed in the criminal court here today on behalf of Claude Williams and Joe Jackson, Chicago American League players who were indicted on charges of conspiracy to throw the 1919 world's series.

A petition filed on behalf of Williams, Jackson and George Anderson, a team mate, declares that none of the three ever made admission charged against the first two and deny that they ever threw ball games or conspired to do so. Weaver did not appear before the grand jury and the first denied taking part in the alleged conspiracy.

The document asked that the state furnish the indicted men with a bill of particulars, and it brought out that the men are formally charged in the indictment with unlawfully obtaining $250,000 from Charles K. Nims. The petition recites that Nims is unknown to the players.

ROBBERS START
FIRE IN HOME

Councilman Gearhart Suffers Heavy Loss In Blaze
Which Practically Destroys His Home Saturday Night.

Fire almost completely destroyed the home of Councilman George H. Gearhart, of East Channahon street, Saturday night. The loss to house and contents was estimated by Mr. Gearhart as $4,000, with $2,500 insurance. The fire is believed to have been started by robbers who, in attempting the robbery of a buffet in the dining room in which Mr. Gearhart kept money and silverware, set fire to papers in the buffet. This theory, which Mr. Gearhart advanced, is borne out by the fact that the buffet contained a secret drawer which the thieves were unable to find, but which was evidently known of. Money and valuables in this drawer were valued at $600.

The fire was discovered by Ben Pease and an alarm telephoned in the fire department by Mrs. Harry Cordray at 8:10. The North End department and the squad wagon from Central answered the call. Due to trouble with a water plug, some delay was experienced in getting water on the burning building. When the first was thought to be out it broke out again under the roof. It was finally extinguished at 9:50, after nearly two hours of work. The fire, which burned rapidly for awhile, burned a hole in the floor where the buffet was, letting it drop into the cellar, where Mr. Gearhart recovered part of the money and silverware.

RAIL WAGE BOARD
SUSPENDS CUT IN PAY MADE BY ERIE

Must Pass On All Reductions
Because of Agreement.

Track Workers and Dispatchers Win Temporary Victory.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—Recent reductions in the wages of maintenance of way men and changes in the working conditions of train dispatchers as announced by the Erie railroad were suspended today by the federal railroad labor board pending a hearing.

The board announced that no wage reductions or changes in working conditions could become effective because of agreements between the road and its employees until the board had opportunity to pass upon the case. The hearing was set for February 23.

The case was presented 10 days ago by representative of the employees. The petition alleged that the road had reduced the basic wage of track workers to 30 cents an hour, the previous rates having been 37 to 48 1/2 cents an hour. Train dispatchers representatives charged that the road had ordered them to work seven days a week. Previously they had a six day week.

LIQUOR DEALERS IN CONFERENCE WITH KRAMER

Washington, Feb. 14.—A committee representing liquor manufacturers and exporters was here today to confer with Prohibition Commissioner Kramer and Internal Revenue Commissioner Williams on re-drafting regulations governing the liquor traffic. A representative of the department of justice will meet with the committee.

WANT ALLIES IN CONFERENCE

Turks Hope to Have Influence of Powers-When Treaty Discussion Is Reopened Next Week.

Constantinople, Feb. 14.—Hope that allied delegates would enter the near eastern conference to be held in London next week with a compromising spirit was expressed here today by Abdul Mejid Effendi, heir presumptive to the Turkish throne. Only by such an attitude on their part would it be possible to establish peace in the near east, and he said it might be too late to insure an end to hostilities, if the Turkish nationalists have made any military agreements with the Russian Bolsheviks.

He indicated that Turkey was awaiting with interest the development of the near eastern policy of President-elect Harding.

VENIZELLOS OPPOSES
REVISION OF TREATY

Paris, Feb. 14.—Revision of the Sevres treaty between the allies and Turkey is opposed by every means at his disposal by Former Premier Venizelos of Greece, he declares in an interview published by the Petit Parisien.

M. Venizelos takes action to deny recent reports that his fight against any alteration of the Sevres pact is evidence that he has entered into relations with King Constantine of Greece.

"I cannot fight officially and openly," he says, "but I can, at least in private talks, plead my country's cause, and advance all arguments that seem convincing. I am working in the background ardently for what I believe to be justice. I have made no arrangements with Constantine, but as I am a Greek, it is my duty to defend, always and everywhere, my little homeland against the ill which may assail her. It makes no difference to me if my efforts coincide and are confounded with those of the royal house. I will do anything the higher interest of my country require. Those who do not understand are poor creatures."

BLUEBIRDS AND ROBINS ARE HERE BUT THOSE VIOLETS ARE FROM HOT-HOUSE

Have you seen them? Now don't crowd and don't push! We are not doubting that you saw those robins, for nearly every one has. But have you seen the bluebirds yet?

Yes, reports have come in that yesterday the bluebird made its first appearance, and now we know "spring has arrived."

But don't get too previous, for those violets the girls are all wearing today are of the hothouse variety and are donations for Valentine greetings. They did not come from along the creek bank, although if the sun maintains its good work of yesterday and today you might look up the wine-keg—you know the one you just took the last of the grape out of—and get it ready for the dandelion.

With a winter that has been minus many frost bites, it looks like the coal pile has won the race with the shivery breeze and will hold out. Shakes the price of gas goes up this month.

INAUGURATION
ADDRESS WILL BE SHORT ONE

Harding Will Touch On Taxation, World Peace and Latin America.

Has Rough Outline Prepared But Has Not Started Real Work.

St. Augustine, Fla., Feb. 14.—A plea that the nation forget the animosities and partisanship of the after war period and put its shoulders insistently to the wheel of reconstruction is expected to form the keynote of Warren G. Harding's message to his fellow countrymen when he comes into the presidency.

Although the inaugural address is still far from complete it was learned today that considerable work had been done towards its preparation and that the subjects it is to cover virtually had been selected.

It is understood it will be very brief and will attempt no detailed discussion of any of the problems awaiting solution. One of the outstanding features is expected to be an appeal for confidence in the nation's business stability, linked with an assurance that during the next four years the administration will keep away from meddling methods in its relations with the business world.

Detailed statement of a taxation policy however, is to be reserved until congress has been called in special session probably in April.

It is believed Mr. Harding's address will touch very briefly on the question of an international peace association and will tersely pledge sections of administration to use its best effort to secure a peace agreement compatible with American aspirations. There is expected also to be a word of friendship for Mexico and the rest of Latin-America.

For the present Mr. Harding is devoting little time to the actual workings of the document and most of the real work of putting his ideas into language probably will not be done until next week. He has a heavy appointment list for the present Mr. Harding is devoting little time to the actual workings of the document and most of the real work of putting his ideas into language probably will not be done until next week.

WOMAN NOW SAYS

Court Refuses to Rule Out
Testimony Given In Second Trial.

Decision Follows Spirited
Battle Between Attorneys in Case.

Cleveland, Feb. 14.—A motion by the defense in the second degree murder trial of Judge William H. McGannon, to strike out the testimony of Miss Mary E. Neely, important witness for the state, was overruled by Judge Powell today after Miss Neely admitted that "to the best of her knowledge and belief" she had told the truth during the judge's first trial.

The court's decision came after a spirited battle between attorneys for both sides, during which defense attorneys declared if Miss Neely's testimony was permitted to go before the jury it might count against the judge and lead the jurors to believe she had not told the truth when testifying for the state at the first trial.

William H. Boyd, defense attorney, asked that Miss Neely's testimony be stricken from the records on the ground that she had, in reality, refused to testify when on the witness stand Friday.

When court recessed at noon County Prosecutor Stanton announced the state had about completed its case and was likely he would rest this afternoon.

CRUDE OIL IS REDUCED AGAIN

Gasoline Cut Is Announced By Standard As Purchasing Agencies Announce Reduction In Cost.

Purchasing agencies in Pittsburgh today announced further reductions in the price of crude oil. The grade known as Corning was cut 25 cents a barrel to $2.54, while Cabell was cut 50 cents a barrel to $2.46.

At the same time the Standard Oil company of New York reduced the price of gasoline two cents a gallon making the wholesale price 28 cents. This is a drop of 3 cents from the high mark of 31 cents received in 1920. Kerosene was also reduced one cent a gallon, making the wholesale price 17 cents.

Leon R. Taylor, ex-governor of New Jersey and former student at Denison university, Granville, is now the head of a new oil syndicate in Montana. He is located at Lewistown where Ernest Cornell, another former Denison man, is interested in the oil game. Mr. Taylor's organization has 350 acres in the Cat Creek section in Montana, the home of the thousand barrel oil wells, which Mr. Cornell is secretary of the Metropolitan Petroleum company of Montana. The Metropolitan has acreage in several places in the oil district and is getting ready to sink a well in the early spring.

What promises to be one of the most productive oil wells ever drilled in the Frush Creek-Harrison township fields, Muskingum county, was shot at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon by the J. L. Swingle Oil company, on the Loua Valley farm of 245 acres, now owned by Carthew S. Stutes. It is estimated that the well will produce between 40 and 50 barrels per day.

The well, which was drilled to a depth of 1087 feet in Berea grit contained 809 feet of oil before it was shot.

During the past year 40 wells have been drilled in this territory all of which have been successful. Of 11 the wells, the one shot Friday is located northeast north in a streak one-half mile wide, which has been consistent and turned out paying wells wherever drilled.

The well shot on Friday has just one hundred and forty-five feet from the leases of the Profit-sharing association, in which many Zanesville people are financially interested.

A crowd of more than 100 people witnessed the shooting of the well.

THOUSANDS VISIT FOOD SHOW AT SCHAUS STORE

A near riot marked the concluding hour of the formal opening and big food show held at the Schaus Co. Saturday at their new store in 34 South Third street.

As a feature for the last hour a contest of guessing the number of grains of corn five chickens would eat in half an hour drew tremendous crowds. For the nearest correct answer a handsome set of 10 pieces of aluminum was given away. The chickens ate 1313 grains and Mrs. L. A. Stuber, of 129 Franklin avenue, came nearest with a guess of 1321 grains. In the United Biscuit contest for $5 in gold, the prize was awarded Mrs. T. E. Davis, of 3782 West Main street, and the Parity Nut prize of two pounds of the product was given A. A. Lake, of 14 Roe avenue.

It is estimated that between 5000 and 6000 people visited the store during the day. Hundreds of stalks of narcissus and four sisters were given for favors, and visitors were able to obtain a complete luncheon at the various booths of the food show.

The demonstrations included hot biscuits made of flour donated by the Hull shiner, Milling company and baked in the Copper Clad range. With these was served hot sausage made by the Bonham meat market. The adjoining booth served cups of Golden Star coffee and many different kinds of cake made of Instant Swansdown.

Two pancakes were baked on an electric griddle and served with Franklyn syrup. On the first floor products of the National Biscuit company, Parity Nut, omelette, canned fruits, Crisco products and Fleischmann yeast were demonstrated. In the household department a demonstration of West Bend aluminum was given, and in the rest room a large Veranda placed by J. J. Carroll furnished the music for the occasion.

The demonstration Saturday by the Schaus company was the most pretentious ever staged by a local store.

WITTENBERG FUND GOES OVER TOP

Local Lutherans will be interested in the announcement that the campaign for an expansion fund of $150,000 for Wittenberg College at Springfield, Ohio, has gone over the goal. Gifts and subscriptions amounting to $1,665,000, have been received for the college to date according to the final general summary report of the campaign just issued by the college officials.

Of the total raised so far, about $819,500,000 came from the members of Lutheran churches in Wittenberg territory. Springfield and Clark contributed about $205,000,000 which includes the gifts of a chapel from former governor James M. Cox, and a gymnasium building from Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McGilvray of Springfield, which are estimated at a total of something over a half million.

So far 272 of the 431 Lutheran congregations which are connected with Wittenberg College have reported subscriptions totaling $460,000.00 exclusive gifts on the minimum general quota of $701,783.00. About 63 per cent of the churches have subscribed over 65 per cent of the minimum quota.

There remains about $240,000 to be subscribed by the remaining 159 Lutheran churches. Two college secretaries are carrying on the work among these churches and there is little doubt but they will meet and surpass their quota.

Sunday, March 6th, will be observed as "Wittenberg Day" by all Lutheran churches in the territory supporting the college.

RACE HORSE PLAY IS GOOD COLLIER VEHICLE

Just lines, but lines that painted word pictures until you almost believed you saw the various details and were in it the finish, when "The Hotentot" took the final water jump, made up this season's vehicle for the quiet, contagious humor of William Collier.

This is not Mr. Collier's first appearance in Newark, and he was greeted with applause on his first entrance, at the Auditorium Saturday evening. "The Hotentot" is a collaboration by Victor Ames and Collier, himself, and the dialogue is bright and snappy, and given over entirely to race horse chatter.

"The Hotentot" is a horse—a vicious beast—Collier called him. Not THE Sam Harrington, the famous jockey and steeple chase rider of California, but a lady much admired by Collier, thinks he is so he lets her think it. He goes to visit her home and inadvertently arrives the day before the famous steeple chase race and the much admired lady asks him to ride her mount and wear her colors. As Harrington hates horses, and is afraid of them, following the losing of his nerve after a runaway, the complications afford much opportunity for good comedy.

The big climax is the winning of the race by Harrington on "The Hotentot."

All the horse riding is off stage, but clever portrayal and rapid fire of the dialogue brings it to the audience, until a thrill of suspense holds during the race.

Shaping humor with the star for splendid delineation, was Donald Meek as the butler Swift, who works through various scenes with Collier. Georgia Lee Hall, made a pretty Peggy Fairfax, the much admired girl, and Elizabeth Moffat was standing as Mrs. Chaworth, the fastidious widow. Helen Audiffred wore some pretty frocks and played her small part well. Calvin Thomas gave good support as Larry Crawford, rival of Collier's. Frederick Karr made an admirable Ollie Gilford, and two minor roles were taken by Edwin Taylor as Perkins the groom and Howard Hull Gibson as Reggie Townsend.

Some attractive gowns were worn by the women of the cast and the play was well staged.

EXPECT MUCH SPORT IN MAIN BOUT TONIGHT

The topround go between Billy Gibbs and Eddie Burke at Hickey Hall tonight will be the main attraction at the boxing exhibition. These boys, who appeared here two weeks ago in a four-round draw, showed the real stuff and the management feels safe in guaranteeing a real bout this evening.

Red Nutter of Newark and Joe Kresge of Columbus will put on the four-round semi-final. These boys weigh in at 135 and both are clever.

Budgie Hinger and Lester McLaughlin will appear in a semi-final. Both of these boys are from Newark and McLaughlin known by his numerous appearances in the ring is well known.

In addition to these three local management has arranged for Johnson of this city to meet any comers at 150 to 155 pounds.

SPECIAL SERVICES ARE HELD AT CENTRAL CHURCH

Central Church of Christ began a series of special services yesterday to continue until further notice. There were four additions during the day. Mr. Ben C. Crow, baptist, of Chicago, is a socialist and leader of the chorus. Mrs. W. C. Finney, pianist, and last evening the song service was enriched by the presence of the Sunday school orchestra in charge of Miss Martha Flurschütz. The pastor, Rev. J. H. McCarty will speak tonight on the subject "The World's Moral Magnet" and Mr. Crow will open the song service at 7:30 sharp.

WELSH LECTURER TO SPEAK HERE TONIGHT

Dr. Arthur W. Evans, Welsh lecturer, will speak at the high school auditorium this evening on "What America Means To Me." Dr. Evans appears under the auspices of the high school lecture course. The Welshman, who is a relative of Lloyd George and who has spent 25 years in England, is considered a well known and entertaining lecturer.

The appearance of Gorst, the Bird Man, on the lecture course of the Eagles at the high school auditorium Tuesday night, has been postponed till May on account of the illness of Mr. Gorst.

ARRANGING FOR "NIGHTLY NIGHT"

Edgar Healy, special advance representative for the Adolph Klueber-Selwyn attractions, is in Newark arranging for the presentation of the New York Princess theater success, "Nightly Night," which plays the Auditorium Saturday, matinee and night, Feb. 19th.

According to Mr. Healy, who has been here year after year as publicity agent for the highest class attractions, "Nightly Night," is a tremendous hit, after playing to crowded houses in New York and Chicago, it has scored a continuous triumph on tour, both in the larger cities and in the smaller towns where the theaters are often completely sold out before the company arrives.

According to advance reports the tritons are unanimous in its praise, proclaiming it the funniest and cleanest comedy in many seasons. It comes here with the same all-star cast and the entire production as produced in thusiasm more than to recall the time she was selected to originate the role of Little Hal in "The Squaw Man" with William Faversham.

Shirley was only four years old when her mother took her to stage children employment agency to sign a contract with a manager who had signed her sister, Viola, Milton Royal, author of "The Squaw Man," was at the office to select a child for the part of Little Hal. Shirley happened to look into the room and before she could get away, the author caught sight of her.

"There is the child for the part of 'Little Hal,'" he said. "If you will cut off her curls I will take her and pay her $25 a week."

The manager who was about to make a contract for little Shirley became incensed at the action of Royal, but following a few angry words the matter was patched up and Shirley was permitted to accept the part of Little Hal. She appeared in "The Squaw Man" until forced to give up the engagement through interference on the part of the Gerry society.

A comedy is also promised.

"SHAVINGS" COMES WITH ENTIRE NEW YORK CAST

Usually when a play leaves New York after a long and successful run its cast is impaired by various changes

Patience, "Old Fashioned Garden," "It Gets Them All" and a revival of the "Florodora Sextette."

Another of the features of this year's edition of Hitchy-Koo is Hitchy's own symphonic orchestra. Together with such well known players as Stan Stanley, Jack Riano, Artie Loeming, John Haw, Frank Corbell, Frank Miller, Juanita Cunningham, Ruth Downe, Wood Sisters, Ollie Northlane, Bagley Sisters, Baby Josephine, Helen Collins, Helen Stanley, Bert Leighton, Ruth Weston and the famous Sixteen Sweet Sixteens.

"THE DEVIL TO PAY" A MYSTERY PLAY

Mystery and adventure plays are coming into vogue. That is the opinion of Robert Brunton, producer of the year's photodramatic sensation, "The Devil to Pay," released by Pathe and coming tomorrow to the Grand.

"For the past two years," says the producer, "as a logical aftermath of the war, picture-goers have revelled in the novelty of strange philosophy; ouija boards, mediums and weird cultism. Now reaction has set in. The public is reverting to simpler themes, and the most popular of these is the old time mystery drama."

"The Devil to Pay," adapted from Frances Nimmo Greene's novel, is a striking embodiment of Mr. Brunton's theory. It is a powerful mystery drama of political intrigue, packed with suspense, thrills and unique situations. The leading banker of a small city commits a felony and causes an innocent employee to be sent to the gallows in his place. With the man officially

New York, so Newark is to benefit by the tie-up in big town bookings and see this first class attraction, as this company plays a few weeks in the smaller cities while the week stand time is being re-arranged.

SHIRLEY MASON ORIGINATED PART IN "SQUAW MAN"

Shirley Mason, who is to be presented by Wm. Fox tonight and tomorrow at the Alhambra, has enacted nearly every type of girl role on the stage and screen since she made her debut at the age of two years, but nothing arouses her interest and en-but "Shavings" which will be presented by Henry W. Savage at the Auditorium Wednesday afternoon and evening comes there intact, not even slight changes being made in the cast or the presentation. This is especially gratifying inasmuch as Harry Deresford in the role of "Shavings" made a most flattering impression on the New York public and press while the supporting cast is as flawless as a cast could well be.

"Shavings" is a Cape Cod toy maker who day after day looks out from his little shop and views the world from a very original viewpoint. His quaintness is manifested in simple, natural ways. He is always misplacing his tools and once he absent-mindedly uses a wad of money to stop a window from annoying him by its rattling. He is constantly talking to his toys and gestulating in a weird way all of which accounts for the fact that everyone considers him queer and "Shavings" has come to be deemed a name which fits him better than his own name, Jed Winslow.

HITCHCOCK'S NEW EDITION OF "HITCHY-KOO"

One of the most successful musical comedies of the season to be presented at the Auditorium for two performances soon only will be the new edition of Raymond Hitchcock's big musical comedy revue "Hitchy-Koo." The per-hung, the banker believes himself safe from detection and begins to enjoy life with his old abandon. Then a weird voice calls him over the telephone, whispers in his house, haunts him day and night. It is the voice of the dead man—the only one who knew his guilt—the voice of the man whose death had long since been recorded by the State!

HAYAKAWA FILM IS AN ARTISTIC TREAT

"An Arabian Knight," the Robertson-Cole Special, with Sessue Hayakawa in the stellar role, which opened at the Grand last night for a run of two days, is an artistic treat. Rarely indeed do lovers of scenic beauty in pictures have the opportunity to revel in the flash of color and the voluptuous atmosphere of the Levant characteristic of "An Arabian Knight."

Scene after scene, one more beautiful than the other, unfold themselves with startling rapidity in this original and novel Hayakawa vehicle. From the opening, when the silent spaces of the Egyptian desert are bared to view with the solemn and mysterious pyramids outlined sharply against the sky, until the final fadeout, the picture charms because of its sheer artistry of composition.

And what makes it still more delightful is the intriguing character of Mr. Hayakawa's role. Cast as Ahmed, the good-natured, lazy son of a Cairo Bedouin, he is forever engaging in pranks which keep his neighbors amused and peevish in turn. He meets with his greatest adventure, however, when Cordelia Darwin, the sister of an American millionaire interested in Egyptology, decides that he is the reincarnation of her soul-mate of 2,000 years ago.

Ahmed is appointed butler of the American's household and then the fun—and considerable tragedy, too—begins. How Ahmed foils a dastardly plot to kidnap the beautiful young ward of the millionaire, and battles single-handed against a band of half-crazed hashish addicts makes a whirlwind finish which might be melodramatic were it not so breathlessly interesting.

THE SURE FOUNDATION.
The righteous shall inherit the land, and dwell therein for ever.
The law of his God is in his heart; none of his steps shall slide.—Psalm 37: 29 and 31.

AN EXAMPLE OF SIMPLICITY.

The newspapers are saying that Mrs. Harding, in buying her equipment of clothes for the White House, found the prevailing modes of metropolitan styles too elaborate. She prefers simpler styles.

Some of the salesmen eager for the trade of the first lady in the land, must have been mightily disappointed, when she would not take some of these fussy and elaborate creations that they showed her. Mrs. Harding has set a good example of simplification.

The customs of society are dependent upon the examples set by social leaders. If a wealthy person spends money freely on extravagance which she can well afford, a lot of people who are hard pressed for money will run in debt to do likewise.

The story is told of a wealthy citizen in a town years ago before the day of automobiles. He made it his practice to drive down town in a plain old fashioned "democrat" wagon. He usually spent money freely, so this course was not from penuriousness. Some one asked him why he did not get a modern carriage that would fit his wealth and position.

"Well," he said, "I have always driven in that old wagon, and I like to keep doing it. It sets a good example to the young men of the town. I could of course buy a handsome outfit, but it is a damned waste of money to do so."

THE WOUNDED SOLDIERS.

Many complaints are heard that the wounded soldiers are not being properly cared for. Senator Robinson of Arkansas just asked congress to appropriate $30,000,000 to secure more adequate treatment. This may seem a large sum. But wherever else the United States has to pinch, it must not fall down in caring for these fellows.

EDUCATION AND UNREST.

Corporations that are conducting schools for their alien workers report that they are getting excellent results. The attention of the men is taken away from the pernicious agitators who are trying to spread un-American ideas. They are given new ambitions in life, and are diverted from revolutionary notions that had gained a lodgment in their minds.

The man who has been shown how he can better his chances in life, by perfecting himself in English speech and improving his work at his trade, is not going to fool away much time listening to soap box orators who are trying to pull down the institutions of the country. Also he is going to become a more efficient producer. The needs of non-English speaking aliens in and near Newark should be thoughtfully considered to make sure that all have their chance to get an educational foundation.

Any people in Newark who are winking about their income tax, can always avoid the same by giving away their money.

A lot of these people who are so anxious to trade with Russia, do not seem anxious to put up any of their own money on the proposition.

THE DAVIS MACHINE.

Governor Davis is engaged in the building of one of the most formidable political machines ever planned in Ohio.

The way was paved by the last legislature which refused to obey the constitutional mandate and confirm or reject appointments made by Governor Cox.

That left every position open and gave Davis immediate control of practically every commission, department and board. Cox was governor six years out of eight and at the end of his term he had not gained complete control, such as is granted Davis at the outset.

But that is not enough for the machine-builder who now occupies the executive chair. His reorganization plan, featured by one-man control will bring about the return of the spoils system to places in the state government where politics was eliminated years ago.

His new plan will give control of a tremendous political machine and it with this idea in view, rather than for either economy or efficiency that reorganization is to be attempted.

Then in two years he plans to decide whether to run for United States Senator or to seek re-election as governor.

The people haven't been hollering so loud for military glory, since they found out that 93 per cent out of every dollar of taxes go for war purposes.

Johnson and Borah did not become members of the "best mind fraternity" and have been strangely quiet since, but it is said to be the hull that pre-sages a storm.

The bakers are perfectly willing to get out a five cent loaf of bread again, but you might not be able to tell it from a muffin.

With an abundant crop of turnips, perhaps campaign cigars won't cost so high at the next election in Ohio.

Crime wave is said to be rising, but the gun making establishments are fast increasing their production.

The women who wear the backless gowns might explain why they bother to wear any clothes at all.

Many people who are urged to work in a more snappy manner, can only do so in a codd snappy way.

THE WASHINGTON ID.

Love is not altogether a delirium, yet it has many points in common therewith. I call it rather a discerning of the infinite in the finite—of the ideal made real.—Carlyle.

Love.
Good morning, kids and lassies.
'Tis St. Valentine's day.
-In your hearts, ere it passes.
-May love find a way.

Just a Simple Kindness.
Aunt Caline says—Tother day Tite Wadd heard a shot down into his pasture lot an' he went down to sea about it. He found a man which had shot at a rabbit which it had got away an' he says—"Look here," says he in a angry tone, "can't you see that there sine which says, 'No shooting allowed on this farm'?" he says. "An' in the face of that what you mean by shooting my rabbits?" says he. "Bless you I hain't a-shooting them, am I?" says the man, a-watching a rabbit a-running like mad. "I'm not a-shooting them, at all," he says. "I'm jest a-exercising them for you," says he.

Has a Heart, Too.
Many things have been claimed for astrology that could hardly be proved, but we hereby adduce a bit of evidence. In the fact that today is the birthday of Hugh Ellis and he certainly does look more or less like a cupid.

No Laughing Matter.
The Court of Inquiry that investigated the three balloonists has sent in its report on the value of the dog sleigh to naval aeronautics.—Washington Post.
This accident has been a fruitful subject for ridicule but we hold that the cold, not to say icy, atmosphere up there, probably made it the easiest thing in the world for those balloons to skid.

Love Letters.
He was the wisest of young men.
He'd loved a girl since first he met her.
So he bought a cheap fountain pen.
And he wrote her a gushing letter.
—Luke McLuke.

Did You Know?
That Berserker was a redoubtable hero in Scandinavian mythology? He was the grandson of the eight-handed Starkader and the beautiful Alfhilde. He despised mail and helmet and, contrary to the custom of the times, always refused to don these accoutrements when going into battle, his fury serving him instead of defensive armor.

Ground Hog Day.
Though clouds are emblems. Weather man.
Of sadness and of sorrow.
Yet we implore you, if you can.
To bring us clouds tomorrow.
—Newark Advocate.

He gave us clouds both dark and rich.
Yet proved a careless fellow.
Because a rift appeared thru which
The sun shone, bright and yellow.
And e'er a cold mist from the north
Could close the gap, by and oh.
That measley ground-hog sauntered forth.
And saw his bloomin' shadow.

But even so, do not bewail.
Or sit around a glooming.
Just recollect, signs sometimes fail.
And spring will soon be blooming.

SOLONS VOTE BY MACHINERY NOW

Device Is Installed to Save Long Roll and Totaling of Its Result.

Des Moines, Iowa.—Representatives in the Iowa legislature vote their opinions on roll call now with their fingers. No longer does the clerk call the roll and the member vote with his lungs.

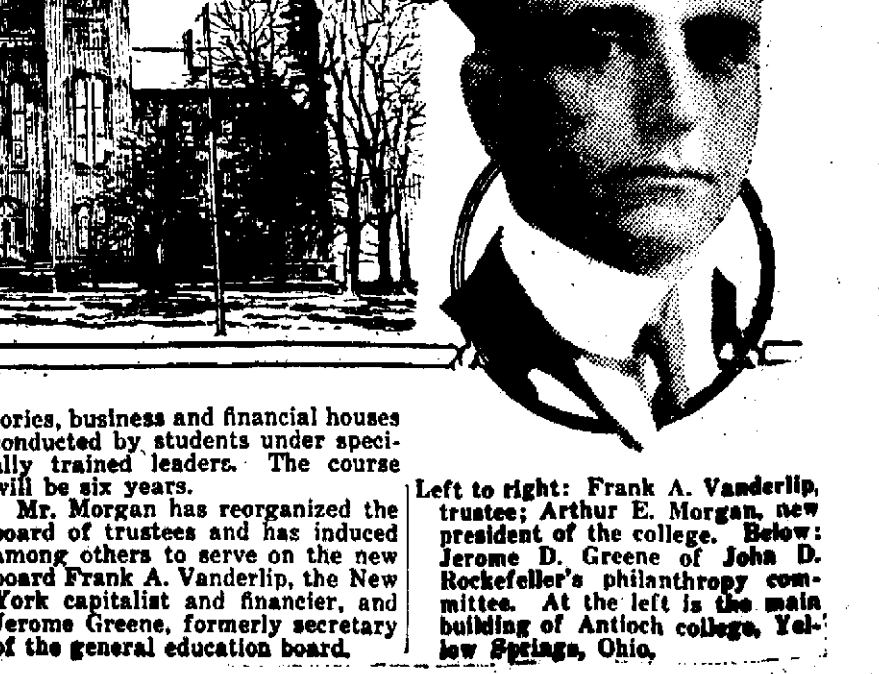

One result of the change is a saving of 15 minutes to half an hour in taking a roll call vote.

When a question is put to a vote every representative may vote at the same time. It is difficult for any to wait and see what someone else will do and let his vote follow.

Since the session two years ago an electrical voting device has been installed in the house, and already has been used. On each member's desk is a little device to which he carries a key. No two keys are alike. There are three small lights to show him how he is voting. When the question is put the legislator inserts the key, and then manipulates the device. What he does is not only recorded for his own benefit by the light on his desk, but shows on a board above the speaker's head. The members all are named on the board. Opposite the name are three lights and a slot. If his vote is "aye" a red light shows, and a "N" appears in the slot. A blue light shows and the letter "N" for a negative vote. To merely be recorded present and not voting a white light is used. Within 20 seconds after the voting is completed a photograph of the complete record on the board is taken automatically, is delivered to the desk of the clerk. In the meantime, however, the total has been flashed on the speaker's and clerk's desks, so the result can be announced immediately.

The photograph is the states record. The machine is controlled by the clerk, who unlocks it and sets it when the vote is called for. As soon as completed he again locks the machine.

BARRING HER PROGRESS

BORROWED HUSBANDS
By MILDRED K. BARBOUR

XXXI.—A Cool Encounter.

Dr. Langwell did not perceive Nancy until he and his companion were seated at a table further down the restaurant.

Then chancing to look up from his absorbed tete-tete, he caught Nancy's glance.

Nancy's pretty eyes wore an expression of mocking amusement, and she gave a swift little nod of greeting, which he returned with amazing equanimity.

"Some one you know?" asked Major Desmond.

"The husband of the old school chum I'm visiting," replied Nancy, busy with her Blueprint cocktail.

Desmond glanced with quick interest at the other table.

"Quite a number of stunning young women your school turned out."

"How simple minded you are!" drawled Nancy. "That is not his wife."

The young officer flushed up to his tanned forehead.

"Fardon me. Have I told something untactful?"

Nancy smiled. How boyish he was after all! She was amazed that she had ever been afraid of him.

PUT FIGHTING QUALITIES IN YOUR BLOOD

TRY TAKING PEPTO-MANGAN

Rich, Red Blood Fights Off Disease and Keeps You Well and Enables You to Work With Pleasure.

Serious sickness often comes when you least suspect it. You may feel a little over-tired. You haven't been exposed to contagion, yet all of a sudden you are flat on your back and in for a siege of sickness.

Your blood did not have fighting qualities. It was weak and thin. Your vitality and powers of resistance were low.

Don't let yourself get run down. Take that good tonic, Pepto-Mangan. It makes rich, red blood that will resist and rout out diseases germs.

Pepto-Mangan is widely and heartily endorsed by physicians. It is effective and easy to take. Comes in either liquid or tablet form. Both have the same effect.

Sold at drug stores. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. "Gude's" Ask for it by the name and be sure the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan," is on the package.—Advertisement.

"A Kiss"

By JACK LAWTON

(©, 1920, Western Newspaper Union.)

The house loomed desolate as Cynthia came toward it. The branches of the trees shedding their summer leaves were desolate too. The leaves crackled beneath Cynthia's feet as she went on up the garden path to the pillared veranda, years of silence and decay showed everywhere. She drew her fur about her throat as she sat upon the highest step to look the old place over, the dear old place that had been her girlhood's home, this wistfully sweet woman had but to close her eyes to people, the deserted rooms with faces, long absent. There her square piano had stood, and at the opposite end of the impressive parlor had been the pier glass. A winsome picture that pier glass had often reflected, a girlish vision of floating ruffles, with happy shining eyes beneath softly wavy hair. Cynthia remembered the vision of herself, as she sat, and saw it again at its fairest clad in bridal array.

In satin slippers the girl Cynthia had danced down the room, her white veil sweeping after, and he had called her "the loveliest vision in the world." But that was before the kiss. Such a simple happening to change the tenor of one's life—as it had changed Cynthia's. There were two suitors, you see; big Will Lefton, poor, adoring and unrequited. And Barton Swift, rich by inheritance, successful in business. By no virtue of his riches had Cynthia chosen, but because of her love for him, with all the time a regretful ache at the back of her happiness, because of poor Will's sorrow. Not that Will was cowardly in defeat, his outward manner was his bravest best; Barton was wildly triumphant, his laughter rang out all the day long, the day of his wedding to be.

With other friends he and Cynthia had festooned the hallways and rooms with flowers. In her white robes she had laughingly defied superstition for the admiration of her lover's gaze, and Barton left enraptured, before the few brief hours preceding the ceremony. As he reached his own home in a blissful daze, he found that he had forgotten to execute a certain commission, and returned. Entering the long room, his steps muffled by the thick carpet. Barton Swift beheld reflected in the pier glass, the picture which he never forgot, and which no explanation could satisfy. Cynthia, still in her bridal robes, was clasped close in the arms of Will Lefton, and as Barton watched, Will bent for her kiss. When he raised his face from hers, Cynthia gave him no words of anger, tears were on her cheeks.

"You had better go now Lefton," Barton said sharply from the doorway, and Will whirling only for Cynthia's motion of dismissal had gone. "Well," Barton asked her with a sneering smile, "so it was my money after all, they said, and you loved Lefton all the time." White to the lips with wide horrified eyes, Cynthia made no reply. His sneering smile changed to a harsh laugh.

"Well, forewarned, forearmed," Barton said cuttingly, his own pain making him cruel, "Better to have found out in time—good-bye."

When the girl found her voice she was alone in the flower decked room. Later, as the wedding hour approached she had in desperation thrown a cloak about her shoulders and gone to Barton's home to seek him, only to learn that he had rushed in to the house and out again with the brief word that he would be long absent.

So Cynthia like a crumpled white flower was found unconscious on the floor of her room, when the wedding guests came, and the wedding had never been. Immediately, a kind father had taken her to travel abroad, since then she had been here or there as her fancy or friends dictated. And as the years passed the old home left of its owners was sold, and the money divided between the sisters. Now that Cynthia's sisters were married, and scattered far, the old house was to be sold again. Cynthia read the advertisement in her city apartment, and a whimsical desire had seized her to view the old place once more. She could think now of that dreadful day with a smile, and wonder that it had seemed to mean so much. But after all the years her cheeks burned hot at memory of an impulsive farwell kiss. Poor Will, he had grieved deeply over the tragedy this rash act brought about. Cynthia wondered what sort of woman he had married. Then, as she stood up to go, a man came through the great house doorway, and stood speechlessly looking at her. She recognized Will Lefton at once, the same serious eyes, the patient face that years could not touch with sternness.

"Will," cried the woman, "how strange to meet you here, and unchanged."

"Why, I am quite gray," Will Lefton said, as he caught her hands, "but you are just Cynthia still. I came to buy the old place," he told her.

"For—your—wife?" Cynthia questioned.

"There has never been but one woman in the world for me," he answered sadly, "and I spoiled her life—with a kiss."

Then Cynthia raised to him shining eyes.

"Will Lefton," she asked, "Oh! are you sure of that?"

Milady's Boudoir

Facial Beauty.

The appearance of the face is, undoubtedly, the most important attribute to beauty that there is, more than many people realize. You should give the face a regular ten minute massage every day, and should use a really good cold cream on it. One made at home is usually very much better than the boughten ones and the following receipts, which I can vouch for, will be found, I am sure, much to your liking.

It is made of sweet almond oil two ounces, spermetol one ounce, coconut oil two ounces, white wax one ounce, tincture of benzoin three drops, lanoline two ounces and orange flower water two ounces.

After putting together all of these ingredients, except the benzoin and orange flower water, let them mingle

HERE IS FRENCH IDEA OF "SHIMMY"

The French idea of the "shimmy" is a dainty affair indeed, and it is also brief, as one may readily see. This chemise is especially good worn under decollete gowns which are so much in fashion in France. It is made of flesh colored crepe de chine with a slashed hem bound in pale blue satin ribbon.

by setting in a dish over a slow fire. When they are melted take from the fire, beat with an egg beater and, when evenly cold, add the benzoin drop by drop, stirring constantly. Put the orange flower water in, in a thin stream, while beating the mixture.

In addition to the cold cream, the well groomed woman, particularly if of middle age, should have a good wrinkle astringent. The glycerine astringent I here give you is a determining factor for all wrinkles and every woman should have it on hand for daily use. Use glycerine one hundred grams, boric acid fifty grams, and one hundred grams each of alcohol and benzoin. Let the acid dissolve in the alcohol, then add the glycerine, next the rose water, and, lastly, the benzoin.

Many children dislike milk as soon as they have passed their childhood days. The food value it contains, however, is very essential to the proper growth of children. Many mothers are at a loss for ways to disguise the milk and still leave it palatable. Probably one of the best ways is to give the child a pure cocoa entirely made of milk. Cereals can also be cooked in milk and the milk added as it is eaten. In this way quite an amount can be given a child without his disliking it.

Locomotives being built in the United States for an Italian railroad will burn pulverized lignite, automatically fed to the fire boxes as fuel.

Everyday Etiquette

"Please tell me how to place the spoons when soup, gelatine and coffee are to be served?" asked Mrs. Newby.

"Place the coffee, spoons nearest the plates, the gelatine spoons next and finally, the soup spoons. They should be all placed to the right," said her mother.

Our Boys and Girls

Every child should be kept from a knowledge of the graver side of life until he is old enough to understand. His little mind cannot grasp the situation in the right way and, unconsciously, he is made morbid over such events. It never adds to the occasion to take the children when attending a funeral or visiting a very ill friend, so if you can possibly leave them at home, do so. The solemnity of the occasion leaves a child depressed or in a sad frame of mind, a condition that should never be encouraged.

SISTERLY DEVOTION ENABLES GIRLS TO SHINE IN SCHOOL

Cyrel Guthman, above, and her sister, Ethel.

Sisterly love has brought about the graduation with honors of Cyrel and Ruth Guthman, New York high school pupils. This love overcame the handicap of deafness which Cyrel combated since childhood. In school, when Cyrel failed to "read" the lips of the teachers, Ethel interpreted the instructions for her. Outside of school Ethel aided her sister in preparing her lessons. Ethel is sixteen and her sister eighteen. The girls completed the four-year course in three and a half years.

OFFERS TO SELL SELF FOR $2,500

Jack Tar's Body and Soul Goes for Year to Man Who Will Put Up the Money.

STICKS FOR HONESTY ONLY

Will Do Anything to Help Him Care for Wife and Baby—Goes Supperless to Buy Milk for Infant.

Chicago.—For those who like to ponder the riddle of existence there is presented Obert Firmin, who offers himself for sale, body and soul, for one year. Price, $2,500.

His only stipulation is that his purchaser shall not expect him to participate in any unworthy action. He will go anywhere in the world upon the most hazardous adventure. He says he will labor "at any task that 100 pounds of brawn, two capable hands, and a clear brain can perform."

But he insists he must sell himself. There are two reasons. You will find them in a one-room house-keeping apartment on the third floor back, at 1232 West Madison street. One is the nineteen-year-old wife he eloped with three years ago. The other is Martha, thirteen months old and undernourished.

A Marooned Jack Tar.

It is the story of a Jack tar marooned among landlubbers. Firmin was born in St. Johns, New Brunswick, Canada. His father was a deep sea sailor. As a boy Firmin used to go out with the fishing smacks. He could navigate a deck before he could walk a pavement.

As soon as he was old enough he went to sea. He has circumnavigated the globe five times. He has been in every nook and cranny where ships wander. He enlisted for the navy when the United States entered the war, but the shipping board diverted him to the merchant marine.

In the fall of 1917 a freight packet on which he was serving as quarter-master touched at Cleveland. Firmin had shore leave of five days. He met Myrtle Smith. They loved. Her parents objected. They were married secretly. His time expired last November. He went to Cleveland. They notified the parents of their marriage. Forgiveness was refused. They came to Chicago.

"I've Tried Everything," he said. "I don't belong on dry land," he said. "I've tried everything. My wife is not well and I didn't want to leave her and baby. I finally began washing windows and cleaning flagpoles. I'm pretty handy at climbing. But the money didn't come in."

"Tonight we got down to our last cent. We were able to buy milk for baby, but we went supperless. So I decided the thing to do was to go back to the sea again. There I'm at home. On dry land I'm as handy as a fish out of water."

"So that's why I offered myself for sale for a year for $2,500. I'm well worth it. All I want is assurance the wife and baby will be cared for. About myself I'm not worrying. I don't care where I go or what I do, just so it's honest."

"Please get this straight: I don't want any charity, I just want a chance to make good for the $2,500."

MORE WIRELESS FOR BRAZIL

Bill in Chamber of Deputies Aims at Service to Reach the West Coast Nations.

Rio de Janeiro.—Increased wireless communication with neighboring American republics and within the vast territory of Brazil itself is the aim of a bill just introduced into the chamber of deputies.

It provides for the installation of high-power wireless stations in the federal district, and, by arrangement with Paraguay, in Asuncion, and at convenient points in the Brazilian states of Matto Grosso and Rio Grande do Sul.

The measure states that this means of communication would be more economical than by the present land telegraph or cable systems. It suggests the possibility of wireless communication between Brazil and the countries on the west coast through the erection of stations in the interior.

CHINA BARS REDS AND KINGS

Neither Has Chance to Return, Says Dr. Philip T'yu of the Foreign Office.

Peking.—Neither Bolshevism nor monarchism has a chance in China, in the opinion of Dr. Philip T'yu, assistant undersecretary in the foreign office.

Doctor T'yu, who is a student of international law, refutes "erroneous reports and inspired statements of a damaging nature, which have been circulated recently, both in China and abroad, and which not only mislead public opinion, but have a serious reaction on trade."

Smiths and Cohens Lead in New York. New York.—In the 1,006,250 people listed in the New York city directory there are more than 8,000 Smiths and slightly more than 7,100 Cohens. The Browns, Johnsons and Joneses come next.
